Welcome to Tasting South Australia – Ruled by flavour

Marni naa pudni – welcome everyone.

South Australia is a state of ultimate abundance. At the heart of the continent, its vast shores and bays lap the pristine Southern Ocean, Antarctica over the horizon, while its fertile plains and ranges open up to the wild and untamed Australian Outback under star-spangled skies.

Our exciting variety of natural landscapes and ocean environments has long nurtured a proud heritage of indigenous and grown produce: freshly caught seafood, free-range and grazing herds, from prized lambs to Wagyu beef, seasonal crops, ancestor vineyards, and foraged botany. We live and breathe our bounty every day so that it has become the core of a prized green, clean and healthy South Australian lifestyle.

Our uniquely focused, contemporary community of growers and producers, ranging from artisan families to iconic, world-famous brands all share an unrivalled passion for creating the finest food and wine from our oceans and inland fields and pastures.

It's only natural that such plentiful surrounds breed a culture of gastronomic sophistication in the city capital of Adelaide. Streets of restaurants embrace an extraordinary diversity of national and migrated cuisines. Five-star chefs make the city a culinary hotspot. The Central Market is considered one of the most vibrant food precincts in the world. And dozens of welcoming small bars celebrate trophy-winning traditional and alternative wines from the state's 18 wine regions, so renowned that Adelaide is one of the exclusive Great Wine Capitals of the World network.

While we indulge such a local feast for the senses, South Australians lead the way in forging a sustainable future for our beloved people of the land, championing pioneering research and innovations in food and wine technology, aquaculture, and regenerative farming.

We want to share our amazing produce and invite you to enjoy the culinary riches we offer as much as we do at home.

Marni naa pudni is an expression in Kurna language that means "Welcome everyone".

The Kurna people are the Traditional Owners of the Adelaide Plains in South Australia.

Bleasdale was founded in 1850 by the extraordinary Frank Potts, making it the oldest winery in Langhorne Creek and amongst the oldest in Australia.

Frank Potts had travelled the world as a sailor, and yet there was something about the rich, fertile soils and the majestic red gum trees of Langhorne Creek that captured his imagination. Today, the place is just as breathtaking.

In 2019, Bleasdale's Wild Fig SGM was awarded the prestigious Jimmy Watson Trophy at the Royal Melbourne Wine Awards, further cementing Bleasdale's place in history and reputation as an award-winning winemaker.

Bleasdale wines express distinct regional and varietal character – modern classics with respect for tradition and an eye for the future.

As a Barossa brand, we have an award-winning Shiraz and Cabernet Sauvignon, with an Adelaide Hills Sparkling, however, our primary focus is on the forgotten noble varietals of the Barossa. Our portfolio includes wines made from Cabernet Franc and Merlot and a unique rare sparkling varietal from the Adelaide Hills. Petit Meslier is one of the recognised champagne varietals of France, but our source is the only commercial vineyard grown outside of the French Champagne region.

Paisley Wines is the result of a love affair with Barossa wine by long-time winemaker Derek Fitzgerald and his wife Kirsten. They live with their daughter in a hilltop home on their Angaston estate. With 15 acres of established Shiraz and young vine Fiano and Mataro, this Eden Valley property forms the bedrock of the Paisley brand. They also source 70-year-old Grenache and 40-year-old Mataro from south Barossa and old vine Shiraz from the Barossa's North-Western ridge.

The story behind the brand name is interwoven with history. Kirsten's great-great grandfather came to Adelaide from Paisley, a town in the west central Lowlands of Scotland. The paisley pattern features in one of the ranges, the Fabric Series.

Seppeltsfield was established in 1851 by the visionary Seppelt family. The estate was founded on the belief in the importance of providing a whole community with work, purpose and tenure for life. Following five generations of Seppelt family possession and 30 years under corporate holding, Seppeltsfield regenerated in 2007 via a move to private ownership.

Located on the 'Western Ridge' of the Barossa Valley, Seppeltsfield combines over 420 acres of ancient vineyard, gardens and heritage-listed architecture. Today, the fully working heritage-listed winery is undergoing a renaissance. Unico Zelo is on a mission to craft wines with a philosophy of playful and approachable styles to foster a burgeoning wine community, by working with climatically appropriate varieties to showcase our idea of Australian Terroir for the future. Varieties like Fiano and Nero d'Avola, from vineyards with low to no irrigation in desert-like climates like the Riverland, or in the cool, pristine Adelaide Hills where our winery calls home. It is our hope that we can share this story and philosophy across the world.

Notes

Unico Zelo 'Tropo' Pink Pet Nat Pinot Gris, Chardonnay, Merlot 2021

Adelaide Hills

We pieced together a lovely blush blend of Adelaide Hills Chardonnay, Skinsy Pinot Gris and a tiny dose of Merlot to make the most refreshing bubbly in the game. Spring strawberries, pickled cherries, red currants, ripe pear and creaming soda all at once. A lovely dry, saline finish to boot.

Unico Zelo 'Origami' Rosé Grenache, Sangiovese, Dolcetto 2022

Riverland, Clare Valley

Polish Hill River Sangiovese, backed up with some Old Vine Grenache from the Riverland, then lifted with a bit of Clare Valley Dolcetto. In short, this is as Unico as a rosé can be – a blend of our key vineyards, in our house style: fresh, vibrant and bone dry.

Unico Zelo 'River Sand' Fiano 2020

Riverland

Lovely briney, vermouth-esque aromatics, plenty of wormwood and green olive under Riversand's trademark whiffs of nectarine and a little grilled almond too. A lovely lemon juice-riddled salty acid line, before rolling into a wholemeal, toasty complexity.

Tropo Big Red Syrah, Merlot 2021

Adelaide Hills

Big Red has plenty of blue fruit on show with a near-even split of Syrah and Merlot from Birdwood. There's a herbal edge and lovely dusting of olive tapenade, a signature of Merlot. The tannin extraction has been restrained to keep this in a cool climate style with plenty of drinkability.

While its first release surfaced in the Hunter Valley, VANGUARDIST launched in South Australia in 2015, with two painstakingly- crafted, single vineyard expressions. Two wines made from what Michael deemed to be the best varieties, grown in the best soils in the best sub regions the state had to offer. Herein lies the 'V' obsession: an unwavering temperament that now finds VANGUARDIST wines in Australia's most relevant independent bottle stores, bars, and in the secret arsenals of many a fine-tuned Sommelier.

As of 2021, the VANGUARDIST family seems to have finally settled. Michael and Claire, now live and thrive in the Barossa Valley, where the wines are hand-made, bottled and labelled. Michael's business partners, Ali and Edouard, with whom this journey began, now distribute the wines in France and other pockets of Europe, taking the VANGUARDIST story abroad.

La Petite Vanguard Petillant Naturel Tinta Barroca Sangiovese Zibibbo 2022

Riverland

The final blend consists of 66% Tinta Barrocca, 26% Sangiovese and 8% Zibibbo. This wine finished its primary ferment in bottle with native yeasts and no other adds.

La Petite Vanguard Grenache 2021

McLaren Vale

The final wine sees around 60% whole bunch, some carbonic, some more traditional. Mature 500L puncheons and 600L demi-muid housed the wine for about six months post press, before the final wine was blended and sent to bottle without fining or filtration.

La Petite Vanguard 'BLEWITT' Grenache Mourvèdre 2021

McLaren Vale

The final wine is a 60/40 blend of Grenache and Mourvèdre. They were fermented separately, with the blend comprising approximately 40% whole bunch. Post blending in winter, elevage took place in a new French oak 22HL cuve for approximately six months before the final wine was sent to bottle without fining or filtration.

Vanguardist Grenache 2021

McLaren Vale

A four-year-old 2200 litre Slavonian oak foudre, plus three seasoned French oak puncheons housed the wine for about 18 months post press, before the wine was bottled without fining or filtration.

Vanguardist Mourvèdre 2021

McLaren Vale

The Mourvèdre is sourced from Yangarra, both organic and Bio-dynamic certified, in Blewitt Springs. Elevage took place in a 26HL French oak Vat for about 18 months post press, before the wine was bottled without fining or filtration.

Wangolina was established in 1999 plantings of Semillon, Sauvignon Blanc, Syrah and Cabernet but Winemaker and Director Anita Goode has recently taken the brand on a more alternative route, focusing on rarer varieties that are more suited to the climate and require less intervention in the vineyard. Situated in Mt Benson, which is a part of the broader Limestone Coast wine region in South Australia, the area is renowned for limestone and terra rossa soils that combine with a maritime, cool climate to produce wines of exceptional quality, interest and character. Anita is a first-generation winemaker on a fourth-generation farm.

Notes

[illegible]

Birds of a Feather Prosècco 2022

Limestone Coast

Golden delicious apple and honeydew melon texture. Some crunchy acidity ensures the finish is crisp, with just enough length.

Wangolina Limestone Coast Pinot Gris
2022

Limestone Coast

The palate is delightfully textural showing white stonefruit and hints of spice and vanilla.

Wangolina A-Series Grüner Veltliner
2021

Mount Benson

The nose is complex of yellow nectarine, white pepper and citrus blossom, while the palate shows yellow stone fruit and spiced apple with a savoury edge of lime rind and earthy parsnip to linger.

Wangolina A-Series Tempranillo
2021

Limestone Coast

Shows focused aromas of raspberry, black cherry, ripe juicy fig and raspberry edges. Wonderful varietal tannins provide a soft chalky texture beneath the fruit, carrying into the delicious savoury backbone of green tobacco and rosemary.

Wangolina A-Series Lagrein
2021

Limestone Coast

Cooling alpine herbs and eucalyptus aromas, the palate oozes black cherry with edges of dried fig. A lip smacking spine of fine grainy tannins keeps this medium-full bodied wine firm and finishing long.

Wangolina Originals Cabernet Sauvignon
2019

Mount Benson

The nose shows some power but also a sense of grace and elegance. Plenty of dark fruit from black cherry, plum and black currant with an inkling of herbaceousness. The palate shows some wonderfully ingrained tannins that are fine and firm beneath a blanket of luscious fruit and a gentle tapering of bell pepper.

POMIGOLD is a family-owned business located in Myponga, South Australia. Founded in 2006 with the import of the first pomegranate tree cuttings. In 2008 the young trees moved from the nursery to the family farm in Myponga, South Australia where they still grow today. The fruit is hand-picked in April and May and transported to the family factory where it is sorted, packed and stored. It is in this same factory that de-seeds the fruit and produces cold-pressed pomegranate juice. The cold-pressing method used allows the production of the juice, using only the pomegranate arils to maintain the sweet flavour of the fruit. Snap freezing the juice straight after production locks in all the nutrients and protects the integrity of the product.
